CASC is committed to supporting communities and we recognise that many communities, charities, enterprises and organisations are facing disruption, uncertainty and loss of income and clients during the corona virus outbreak.

If we can help, we will, no quibbles.

We can help with:

- Problem solving
- Funding advice
- Governance and management issues
- Regulatory and reporting issues
- Negotiations with local authorities and third parties
- Consultation and engagement during lock-down
- Advice on workplace and Corona virus safety.

If we can't help, we won't mess you around

We will signpost and point you to the best up-to-date information and advice.

Emerging from the crisis will be difficult

For the voluntary and community sectors the virus has severe financial implications, we need to be ready as the lockdown eases – we can help with planning your next steps towards re-opening.

For all charities, social enterprises and community groups we offer a free initial 30 minute consultation (in line with COVID-19 Guidelines)
